

Thermalito

Thermalito is an area generally considered an integral part of Oroville and borders the town on two sides and is primarily residential and small business. A post office operated in Thermalito from 1895 to 1920. Most high school students attend Oroville High School.